THE RISE AND RISE OF ONLINE FOOD DELIVERY

Modern technology has added a new dimension into the fast food delivery business. South Africans spend R2 Billion monthly on fast foods. The smart phone, the ability to make payments and apps that give access to several thousand restaurants makes getting your dinner delivered a breeze.

Muslims should verify their purchases and check their slips when using Call Centres and Delivery Apps. Do not take it for granted that if you clicked or phoned a Halaal store you will receive the correct items from the correct store. Errors may occur and it has transpired that delivery is received from another store instead.

Parents are responsible for educating their children and ensuring that they and their family are protected against that which Allah has prohibited.

NEW YEAR – RENEWED VIGILANCE
