SANHA – PORK AND LIQUOR

Q: Sanha has certified as halaal juices with names such as Daiquiri, Martini, Bermouth. These are names of wines. Assuming that the juices do not contain alcohol, is it proper to certify such products halaal? In my opinion, by approving such drinks Sanha is opening a door of fitnah. Please comment?

A: It is not permissible to certify as halaal the products mentioned by you. It is not permissible for a man while cohabiting with his wife to imagine that he is committing zina with another woman. It is not permissible for a person while consuming halaal orange juice to imagine that he is drinking wine. Such miscreants commit the sin of zina and liquor-consumption by such haraam fantasizing.....

Attention: Molvi A.S Desai

Molvi Sahib,

Assalamu 'alaikum

With your latest article on Page 4 of your issue Vol 18 No 6 entitled “SANHA- Pork and Liquor”, you have once again descended into the pits of maliciousness in your hatred for SANHA.

You have published a question that states that “SANHA has certified as Halaal juices with names such as Daiquiri; Martini, Bermouth” and that “these are names of wines.”

Would you kindly provide us the specific proof of such products being certified by SANHA failing which, your unequivocal retraction as you tendered previously on false allegations.

It remains to be seen whether you will address this issue or not.

Was salaam

Attention: Molvi AS Desai,

Assalâmu 'alaikum

We refer to our letter of 2/09/09 requesting proof or retraction of the blatantly false allegation made in your tabloid, the Majlis Vol 18 no 6 that we certified certain fruit juices with names having connotation with wines viz. 'Martini', 'Daiquiri', 'Bermouth'.

Your abject failure to respond is more than ample proof that the allegation was another blatant lie and you still remain impervious to the Islamic concept of verifying information.

It is a clear demonstration that your word cannot be trusted nor do you have the humility to apologise for your error.

How ironic it is that you resort to mighty oaths, vociferous challenges and grandstanding all in the name of Haqq (Truth) but refuse to apply the same ethics in pursuit of your nefarious ends.

We remain your Brothers in Islam.

Was salâm.
